

User Manual

To run the program, simply launch a local server using the index.html file.

You can then select your username and the balloon model both you and the bot will be using.

To control the balloon, press W to go up and S to go down; the direction you're headed in will be displayed on the screen. If you press ESC, you will be taken to the main menu.

When finishing the race, a menu will be shown asking whether you want to return to the main menu or play again.
